"Pole Omaha New Continent" Vancouver headlines... long since we heard from him... we wondered what he'd got up to his sleeve.

"We've heard a lot about the intelligence of the Belgian police dog; but judging by the want ads, the thing he does best is to get lost."

Musical humor says that during four years the doctor has not spoken a word to him... Seems to be quite a favorite.

"London 'Punch' is said to be losing its favor... it is republished that old joke it once made."

A Californian clergyman has taken to handing out weather forecasts to his congregation... We think gentlemen in his walk of life should stick to the truth.

"Bishop of London Leaves Winnipeg," says a headline... Well, no one can blame him for that."

A scientist says wild animals are being killed off so rapidly that there will be none left and man will be the only mammal... But even at that there'll still be wild animals."

According to a well-known writer, "Women have lost the art of persuading men that they are a superior sex." But men haven't lost the art of pretending they believe it."

From a New York World divorce report: "There was no intention that the marriage should be followed by the settling of a marriage and domestic... Lots of poor guys that have set up a marital home without intending it."

"Aged Woman May Die," a headline says—Yes, it seems extremely likely."

Recommending the faculty musician is recommended by a London beauty expert who says, when sitting in the street or on one should point the line of the nose and the smile—if you can do it, you should, and it gives a disagreeable breath."

A NEW ENCLOSURE 84-146 Most everybody has some little file which usually lasts for a while while it does, they drive their neighbors mad. I'm glad we're not affected in this way. We you and I of course, are sound and sane. We're not attracted by these modern cracks. They show their foolish ways to us in vain. A circumspect for which we should give thanks. It folks but follows the advice we've extended. And kept out on the porch, the live there'd live. Would be so full of health, they're there'd. They won't, but anyway we may be glad. That you and I have not a single fat."

Jury Frees Drunken Driver Who Killed 12-Year-Old Boy

Canadians Press. MONTREAL, Oct. 7.—Donat La Motte, chauffeur arrested here on a charge of drunkenness while driving a motor truck following the killing of Roland Haroux, 12, when the wheel of the truck passed over the boy's head, was found of all criminal responsibility by a coroner's jury here Wednesday. This is believed to be the first verdict of its kind ever returned by a jury in the city of Montreal.

Donat, a glass of almost pure alcohol, dangled as rum, La Motte drove his truck up on the sidewalk and crushed the 12-year-old boy, who was riding a bicycle. It was asserted on a charge of drunkenness. Witnesses testified that the truck was tearing down a house, found a live bottle, left in an apartment, labeled "good old rum." Three of the nine bottles were found in the death car and produced as evidence in court today. The jury watched one of the bottles opened before them and were quickly convinced that the liquor had been made from wood shavings and inferior matter.

The ex-Kaiser is also allotted 15,000 acres of his former estates, land and forests, including the castle of Godes. This is more than was previously agreed upon, but in return he gave up various castles, parks and buildings in Berlin and vicinity. In addition, the so-called Albrecht-Hohenzollern line will be given 40,000 acres and the Karl line 45,000 acres.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1926.

The Local Option Vote.

The voters in four out of five local option areas in Alberta on Monday voted against the proposal to establish these communities as dry towns in a wet province.

Approximately 44 per cent of the votes in the four areas were for local option and 56 per cent against. In the fifth area, 54 per cent of the votes were for local option and 46 per cent against.

The vote may or may not reflect the degree of satisfaction of the general public with the present liquor law as a provincial measure. There is nothing in it to suggest wide approval of that system save by a large minority.

But local option districts surrounded by territory in which liquor was legally procurable have not in Canada been found to be dry otherwise than in name.

The option in such cases consists in the choice of buying it home from bootleggers or going into an adjoining town and buying from a licensed trader or a Government store.

Monday's negative verdict in the four districts is quite as likely to be a pronouncement on the ineffectiveness of local option as on the general question of whether the present Provincial system is satisfactory.

The Grain Movement.

Recalling the kind of weather with which September stalled harvesting and thrashing operations, it may surprise most people to know that nearly a quarter of a million bushels of wheat were inspected at Edmonton and shipped up until Saturday noon.

Favorable weather promptly speeded up the movement, and 77 cars went through on Monday. With about thirty days to make up, the outlook is for busy times on the farms, around the elevators, on the railroads, and at the coast terminals, for an indefinite number of weeks; provided the elements forbear.

September, with all its climatic inconsistencies, did not ruin the Alberta crop; and experts now tell us that the damage was much less than expected a fortnight since. It is a big crop, and it can be handled at record-breaking speed.

Because the grade has suffered somewhat from weather ill-linage, it is more than otherwise important that every bushel be brought to market. A reduced grade means a reduced price, and that the grower must depend on bulk rather than quality to bring in the necessary proceeds.

The rate to Fort William is 15.6 cents per bushel. The rate to Vancouver is 12.6 cents per bushel. On the crop from a quarter section, that saving of 3 cents per bushel is worth while, particularly if weather damage has cut down the selling price.

Bigger Business for Edmonton.

A city in which established departmental stores are enlarging their premises and in which new departmental stores are being established, is a city whose present and prospective position as a business center is all question in the minds of men who should know.

Edmonton at the present is the scene of the most active mercantile development that is taking place anywhere in the West.

The merchants are putting their money into new business enterprises, and into larger enterprises here, are staking their fortunes and their reputations on the Edmonton that is and that is to be.

Departmental stores do not spring up in villages. They do not grow from the static condition of a trade center recognized to have reached its normal maximum.

These tremendous investments are only made where shrewd and experienced traders see that there is business to be done to justify the capital outlay, and a future business to make the enterprise worth while.

The men who are competing in making preparation to accommodate the departmental store trade of Edmonton are building their plans on known facts and figures of the present business turn-over in the community, and on expert estimates of the growth in that turn-over that is bound to come in future.

The departmental store helps to bring about the development which its coming predicts. The more of these gigantic commercial undertakings, and the keener they compete, the more trade will be drawn to this city which might and probably would otherwise be done elsewhere.

A departmental store does not live by putting the local merchants out of business. It does much more than that; it lifts the trade that already being done in the community. It necessarily reaches beyond the range of the smaller store and brings in trade from a distance. It thus helps to promote the growth of the city upon whose growth it must depend for prosperity.

The trade done in Edmonton would be drawn from a much smaller area than at present were it not for the advertisements which the departmental store of the city have for years been bringing regularly before the eyes of the people. The store does not capture all the trade which comes to the city through their advertisements. The live proprietor of the smaller establishment gets a share of it.

The more of these large stores, the larger they are, and the more intense their rivalry, the more widely will they broadcast their reputation, and the more customers will flock here; and the greater will be the opportunities of everyone who lives in the city.

Don't be misled by something which should bring profitable joy.

Universal Beauty

By EDGAR A. GUEST

Beauty wanders here and there
 Resting her treasure rare.
 Pining many a hidden place
 To reach with tender grace.
 Hill and valley, field and lane
 Chase the fluttering of her train.

Angels paint her nose and lips,
 Sometimes lines which poets kiss
 Carry something of her voice.
 That the wide world may rejoice.
 But her magic is revealed
 By the daisy in the field.

Now she lingers by a tree,
 Lights a vessel far at sea
 To give the world a little more
 Of her beauty and her cheer.
 Shimmering on a lake in June,
 She has lovely tears at dawn
 Just to glorify a lawn.

Never places an dim and far
 But above it shines a star.
 Never man as sacred quite
 But finds something of delight
 Floating in the world which she
 Thrills with happiness to see.

A Foodless World

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Every one in a while some scientific prophet announces that the food in the world is about to run out.

Mathews maintained that while the population grew to astronomical proportions, the food supply, from an arithmetical proportion, and consequently there would soon be a shortage of food to supply the people.

And now comes Sir Daniel Hall, who tells the British Scientific Association that the world is facing a "foodless world." While our population is increasing at the rate of the millions of the world, the wheat producing lands have been almost exhausted.

In spite of vast quantities of manure and other attempts to cultivate poor land, the wheat supply is running short. In many countries there has actually been a shortage of wheat.

The number of white people is still growing, but where, he asks, is the land to support them? He says also that the world is eventually all going to be in the hands of a few nations, and that the manufacture of alcoholic beverages.

He adds the interesting suggestion that the race which cuts out meat and alcohol in order to multiply will become a dominant race in the future.

All this is based upon the fact that mankind's rate is linked up with the wheat production.

The eating of wheat products, however, is largely habit. Other foods just as nourishing can take the place of wheat.

The edge of the troika, for instance, has only been used for human food, and the American people is very unthrifty.

There is no doubt that the ingenuity of man will discover some other form of sustenance if his wheat supply should fail.

It is only a comparatively short time ago that the people of the world were so busy with the production of the world's food supply.

BOW MINERAL BATHS CURE

In this age of understanding when all superstitions are being uncovered, we find an increasingly large percentage of people anxious to understand the philosophy surrounding the curing of disease.

There are so many methods of cure advocated that one is often perplexed at the multiplicity of remedies prescribed for the same ailment. No matter what theory is given to account for the disappearance of a disorder, the fact is that invariably the change is produced by the elimination of toxins from the system.

This expulsion of poisons may be stimulated by the use of food, by increased exercise, by deep breathing, and by inducing copious perspiration. A combination of all of these methods will, of course, bring about more rapid results, and if, in addition, a short fast from food is taken and frequent enemas used, the most remarkable benefits may be expected.

The drinking of large quantities of water during this time gives the system a liberal amount of liquid to assist in the elimination of the more solid wastes.

You can easily understand from this explanation how the sick and ailing are at least temporarily helped by their trips to the mineral springs.

These so-called mineral waters induce copious sweating, and this, in addition to the drinking of the alkaline water, corrects at the time an over-acid stomach and in most diseases.

These spring waters do not contain any magic properties; you could add to the water in your own bathtub. Large quantities of water are usually present, as well as sulphur and magnesium.

CITIZENS OF GUTHRIE TURNED OUT TO WELCOME GRADUATES TO CITY FOR THE FIRST SERIES

BABE RUTH IS HERO OF GAME WEDNESDAY

By CHARLES W. DUNKLEY Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 7.—There were no more sleeping under the stars of the Yankees' victory. Instead, there was much hilarity and backslapping with Babe Ruth happily enjoying the thrills on his shoulder.

As the Yankees collected 14 hits Wednesday, within one of the total they managed to collect in the three previous games.

Nothing Too Good

Throughout their stay of three days, Pierce-Arrow, and Packard sedans, together with several chauffeurs, were placed at the disposal of the girls. The courtesy of the multi-millionaire hotel was also extended to them, and a cordial invitation to visit without charge, as they passed in the city.

Card Game

Further, he feels the lack of the Cardinals' assistance. Wednesday has broken their spirit and that the Yankees will breeze into the championship. The edge, he believes now belongs to the Yankees.

Princeton Today

"My statement that when my club started to hit, we'd start to win, seems to have come true," Huggins said. "I look to see what we can do in the hitting up in the next two or three games. If they can't win, we'll win the championship."

Some one called attention to the third homer, saying that it traveled a record-breaking distance of nearly 600 feet.

Not having any place to stage the game, and at the same time accommodate a large crowd, special firm was built in the baseball park, with seating accommodations for 4,000 people.

Following the game, both teams were tendered a banquet by the joint committee of Guthrie.

"After the way in which they treated us in almost every way, we feel sorry that we had to beat them," commented one of the Grads.

The Guthrie girls left home this morning and will arrive here Sunday night.

YANKEE SLUGGERS COME TO LIFE TO TRIUMPH OVER ST. LOUIS IN FOURTH GAME OF WORLD SERIES

Mighty Belting Bomb Connects for Three Circuit Drives Which Cinch Win for New Yorkers 10-3—It Was a Weird Game

By ALAN J. GORD Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 7.—Babe Ruth hit the Yankees out of the Missouri woods Wednesday with the greatest exhibition of home run hitting any world's series has ever seen.

Three battering-ran blows from the Babe's mighty budgeons cleared all barriers and set fire to a Yankee attack that crashed the Cardinals by a score of 10 to 3 in the fourth game of the world's championship baseball series. As a result the series is deadlocked again, at two victories apiece, with the fifth game here today.

GREAT DAY FOR BELTING BOMBING

Wednesday was a wild day for Ruth, the great slugger who has now had in world's series competition and was the most spectacular of the slugging career. His three terrific home runs, which started the Yankees on their hitting slump but figured in their winning of seven world's series records.

A Freak Game

Another record record for sportsman's park, a jam that numbered 11,000, and broke Tuesday's mark came in the expectation of seeing the Cardinals continue their record streak. Instead they saw Ruth lead the Yankees to a victory in the fifth inning and continued unbeaten in the series.

Nothing Too Good

SEPARATE HIGH JUNIORS RUN WILD IN SCHEDULE GAME WITH EASTWOOD, WINNING BY 42-0

By CHARLES W. DUNKLEY Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 7.—Seven new world's series records were put on the books last night, by a sensational victory by the Yankees for the first time in the series. The final count was 42 to 0 and it was a record.

SEPARATE JUNIORS

Babe Ruth personally accounted for six of the new marks as follows: 1.—Most homers for one game, 10, by Babe Ruth. 2.—Most homers for one team, 10, by the Yankees. 3.—Most homers for one series, 10, by the Yankees. 4.—Most homers for one game, 10, by Babe Ruth. 5.—Most homers for one team, 10, by the Yankees. 6.—Most homers for one series, 10, by the Yankees.

More experienced in the line and getting their play away fast, was the deciding factor for the winners. The Yankees' attack was a real one, and the result of some particularly good work.
